

Computer and Telecommunications Law Review

09 MAYO 2016

2016 Vol.22 Issue 3
ISSN: 1357-3128

Table of Contents

Articles

DÉSIRÉE FIELDS

Confirmation that Mere Registration of Famous Trade Marks as Domain Names Amounts to Passing Off 53

In Yoyo.email Ltd v Royal Bank of Scotland Group Plc the High Court struck out a claim by a former registrant of the domain names rbsbank.email, rbs.email, natwest.email and courtts.email for a declaration that he had been guilty of no wrongdoing. The court also confirmed that the mere registration of a distinctive domain name amounted to actionable passing off.

MICHAEL WIGLEY AND JAMES
YOUNG-DREW

Mobile Payments Law and Regulation in New Zealand (Part 2): Cybersecurity Risks & Loss of Privacy 56

Continuing our series on mobile payments, this article discusses the enormity of cybersecurity risk and loss of privacy, and what to do about it. Given that hackers were able to access 83 million household and small business accounts via JPMorgan Chase & Co, banks and other mobile participants are not immune from this threat. In this article we refer to international payment best practice standards, including the Payment Card Industry's Data Security Standard (PCI DSS), a central feature of mobile payments.

IBRAHIM K. ALSHAWABKEH AND FATEN F. KHARBAT

Electronic Tax Declaration in the Jordanian Legislation 61

This article discusses the extent of success that the Jordanian Government has achieved through implementing the electronic taxation declaration system. It also addresses the elements of success of the project that the Government should implement to ensure its application. This article is an endeavour to highlight the pros and cons for the current Jordanian electronic taxation filing system, along with the challenges and barriers that are facing the legislator from more than one perspective. The article concludes that if the Jordanian legislator adopts the electronic taxation filing system it should be encircled by certain elements to enhance the existing system, which has led the authors to submit some recommendations to strengthen the Jordanian experience.

HERVÉ WOLFF

Notification of Personal Data Breaches under Luxembourg Law 65

If currently in Luxembourg there is not (yet) a general obligation for data controllers to notify data security breaches, there exists an obligation on electronic communications service providers to notify the authorities of a personal data breach

ALEX CRAVERO AND PETER DALTON

Digital Asset Theft: Cybersecurity 66

This article, which is the second in a series of four articles that examine the legal and practical response to digital asset risks, looks at preventative steps that can be taken to minimise the risk of a successful cyberattack, and reactionary steps that can be taken following a successful cyberattack to mitigate and minimise loss and damage.

MARK HEANEY AND JANET STRATH

Wait 'til the Midnight Hour: That's when Prior Art Comes Tumbling Down 76

This article explores the first decision in the Unwired Planet v Huawei and Samsung technical trials, which is of particular interest owing to the Patent Court's findings in relation to the effect of publication on the internet of a potentially novelty-destroying document which would have been available to the public where, in certain areas of the world, the date it was available was the day before the priority document was filed.

Special Briefing

CAROLINE O'DOHERTY

Online Trade Mark and Copyright Infringement Injunctions: Implications for ISPs, Site Owners and IPR Owners 79

The Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988, together with the Senior Courts Act 1981 and UK case law, now permit injunctions to be brought against third parties in respect of online trade marks as well as copyright infringement. What are the implications for ISPs, site operators and intellectual property right owners, particularly in relation to copyright and trade mark infringements?

QUENTIN ARCHER, MATTHEW IVES
AND SUSANNAH PARRY

EC Computing, Telecommunications and Related Measures N-47

DAVID E. HALLIDAY

US Federal Computing, Telecommunications and Related Measures N-65